

After an outstanding inaugural year, the Theatre of Tomorrow is set to return to DCT.

Theatre of Tomorrow is a no-cost program which allows teenagers from Dunnville and area to learn all aspects of play production. We need actors, directors, producers, set designers, set constructors, and lighting and sound technicians. No previous experience necessary. Students pick the play, and organize themselves into production teams in order to present the play to the public in 2010. The students do the work with mentors provided by members of the DCT.

Meetings will be held after school from 3:30 to 5 pm on a bi-weekly basis to start and then increase to once weekly or as necessary as deemed by the students.

Theatre of Tomorrow is designed for teenagers to learn new skills, work in a team atmosphere, and learn to take pride in their skills by presenting a play to the public. Oh, and along the way, hopefully have an inordinate amount of fun.

Last year, we were honoured to be placed as a module within the DREAM program running at Dunnville High School, and we look forward to working with some of the outstanding students in that program again. Although you do not have to be a member of Dream to be part of the Theatre of Tomorrow, we applaud the outstanding work Dr.'s Reza and Barbara Kazemi have done to foster a promotion of continuing education and look forward to working with them again this year.

Sign up will occur in September, with the inaugural meeting being held on Oct 5, 2009. To register or get more information call Michael Maloney at 905-774-5087.
